Application Annual Update Information and Checklist*

Developmental Research School
at the University of Florida

The Admissions Application Annual Update is essential for families who were not accepted to P.K. Yonge and would like to remain in the application pool for the following school year. Annual Application Updates must be submitted between July 1 and October 31 each year.*

Established in 1934, P.K. Yonge Developmental Research School is a public school district affiliated with the University of Florida and located on its campus. The school serves approximately 1150 students in kindergarten through twelfth grade. The school is designed as a special school district under Florida Department of Education funding and is given the responsibility to develop innovative solutions to educational concerns in the state and to disseminate successful instructional programs to other school districts.

P.K. Yonge's student population reflects the demographic composition of the school age population of the state. There are five categories in which enrollment percentages are established: gender, race/ethnic origin, family income, exceptional student status, and level of academic achievement. Applications are categorized according to these requirements and students are selected at random from the applicant pool.
