

Dennison Teacher Researcher Excellence Award 2019-20

P.K. Yonge – College of Education

Developmental Research School
at the University of Florida

The purpose of the Dennison Teacher Researcher Excellence Award is to recognize P.K. Yonge faculty who excel in teacher research and collaborative research partnerships with university faculty, as determined and awarded by the Dean of the College of Education at the University of Florida. The Dennison Teacher Researcher Excellence Award celebrates research at P.K. Yonge that engages teachers in putting research into practice for the purpose of impacting student achievement, reflecting on professional learning, and maintaining a shift in practice to improve outcomes for all students. The Dennison Teacher Researcher Excellence Award is grounded in the belief that engaging in classroom-focused research in collaboration with university faculty challenges teachers' beliefs and practices, leads to discoveries that improve student learning, and results in sustained transformations in teaching practice.
