

Senior Research Presentation Day

Wednesday, May 26, 12:00-4:00pm

Developmental Research School at the University of Florida

The Senior Research Project is an important element of senior year and a local graduation requirement for all seniors at P.K. Yonge. Seniors craft a research question in an area of personal interest and engage in formal research which may include reviewing literature and research in the area of choice, interviewing experts or professionals in a particular field, or conducting surveys. Students create artifacts based on their research work that may include research papers, artwork, videos, posters or performances, and participate in our annual Senior Research Presentation Day.
