Just a Note:

We have had a wonderful week celebrating PKY Homecoming! We loved walking in the parade as Lions, Tigers, and Bears!

What we're learning:

Kindergarten: This week we read the book When Sophie Gets Angry. We talked about ways to calm our body when we have big feelings. We also started handwriting and vocabulary lessons. This week was also all about shapes! In Writing, we wrote stories about shapes. We also learned about shapes in math: triangles, hexagons, circles, rectangles, and squares! We were very excited to continue to observe our ladybug habitats and see our larvae transition into the pupa stage of their lifecycle! It was a great week in Kindergarten!

First Grade: In reading, we practiced retelling stories and learned about reading conferences. We practiced writing the letter l, t and i the school way. We wrote stories about an activity we do with our family and used labels in our illustrations to tell more. For math, we learned about fact families and how to find the difference between two numbers. We watched our ladybugs hatch in science, compared plants and animals, and made a craft to our end our science unit.
