Conference + Workshop Title & Description: Southeastern Conference on School Climate

Restoring community through the production of a weekly student-led morning show

Through focused collaboration between the school Principal, Communications Director, and 5th grade patrols, we write, produce, and air a weekly morning show focused on rebuilding our school community. In this session, we will share our systems for creating and sharing the show along with simple ways you could use technology to rebuild the community. We will also discuss ways you could highlight your students, teachers, and staff at your school. Sometimes, simply creating a space where others can share what they're doing with each other revitalizes and enhances mutual concern.
